IN APPRECIATION. . . . . .

A senior year in the life of a high school student is a time for dreams to materialize and become realities. After five months of planning, writing and assembling materials, another dream has been realized. This dream could not have become a reality had it not been for the splendid cooperation of a great many people.

Our greatest debt is to Mrs. W. H. Potts to whom we owe the entire annual from an advisory standpoint. It was through her efforts and excellent leadership that we attained an annual four years ago. Since that time she has served as sponsor and advisor and in this capacity has done a most praise-worthy job. We deem it very mandatory that we express our deepest appreciation and praise for her work.

Next, without the cooperation of our many business concerns, who through their advertising made possible the production of our annual, we would have found it difficult to have carried on our work. To them we wish to express our most grateful appreciation.

To Mr. Batson and the entire faculty we also wish to express our appreciation for their understanding and cooperation.

And to those students who gave of their time and talents we wish to say, thank you, too.

Members of the 1955 Senior Class
Mount Olive High School
Mount Olive, North Carolina

Dear Seniors of 1955:

My past four years with you and the members of the Mount Olive high school faculty have been indeed very happy ones. And, since administrative counsel is in order at this time, I would like to commit to your very serious consideration the words of Van Dyke, who said:

"Four things a man must learn to do if he would make his record true: To think without confusion clearly;
To love his fellowmen sincerely;
To act from honest motives purely;
To trust in God and Heaven securely.

If you will memorize this immortal character-building-formula, which is one of my favorites, and apply it daily to your thoughts, words, and deeds, you'll be a success in life, regardless of your station or your line of endeavour.

With warmest regards and best wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,

J. A. Batson

class prophecy

Who was it that said there was no ambition among the Mt. Olive graduates of the year 1955? Oh you, no doubt. Lend an ear to the world-famed achievements of this class.

To this class America owes some of its most visionary and far reaching inventions. Science is indeed indebted to Billy Byrd, now James William, for his discovery of how to make pictures of electrons. These pictures are very soothing, used as a remedy for headaches, caused by him. But perhaps the one invention which is to mean the most to future generations is that of Madelene Weeks. It is a self-rolling super-size baby carriage. It will hold two pairs of twins comfortable. It is said that she was first inspired by her own dear brood of youngsters quadruplets!

From the ranks of the class of'55 the world of letters has received two of its most prominent members. We need only to mention the titles of the following books whose names are on every tongue:

"Directory of N.C. Young Men from Mebane to the Coast"- a unique book which no North Carolina girl is without - by Sylvia Martin.

"The Confessions of An Escaped Criminal" - the famous book of Lloyd Warren who has just authorized the publication of the third edition. It is accompanied by a preface by Mrs. Potts.

Sallie Jane Powell is still successfully managing her notorious "Hernando's Hideaway at Albert's. Many continued to be drawn to her aid by the attractions offered them of fabulous salaries, the famous cocoa-cola, and an unlimited supply of "Camels". The staff at present includes Joyce Hollowell as House Keeper. Peggy Waters, as one can clearly see, is President Dancing Instructor.

Various indeed are the activities to which members of this class have given a hand. Mary Wolfe is on television with her own show "Here's My Line." Ann Wilson is a professional baseball player. She took the laurels from Mickey Mantle very shortly after graduation.

One of the most outstanding members of the class is Jackie Johnson, the listing of whose achievements has made it necessary to publish a special De Luxe edition of "Who's Who." In piano, she now holds the place formerly occupied by Liberace. In singing she has top billing at the Metropolitan Opera.

Jackie Paul Crumpler finally decided to become a preacher, Carson Lane a mortician, and Jimmie Williamson, a doctor. The great three collaborated and now have a thriving and prosperous business, each working for the advantage of the other.

Patricia Hines is our world traveler. It was on one of her trips to Arkansas she discovered a new state, now named in honor of our class.

Dorothy Holloman was disappointed in love. She now conducts a boys' camp in the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Essie Rose Barwick has had marked success in a novel experience of marriage and finds it satisfactory for life.

Libby Jean Rose and Hilda Brogden own a mammoth hose factory. They have made so much money that they are able to give their salesman Cecil Kornegay whole pairs of hose as samples. He sells these as a by-line, his slogan "Let Kornegay beautify the day."

Because Gaynelle Puckett's experiences in love, she now edits a column under the heading of "Gaynelle Puckett's Love Advice to the Forlorn."

I have presented the statistics. I now leave it to the unbiased judgement of our readers to pronounce the sentence. Written in the year, one thousand, nine hundred and fifty-five.

Your unworthy scribe,
Sally Parks Wolfe

class history

It all began four years ago, the fall of 1951. Seventy-seven bright shiny freshmen walked down the halls, our eyes filled with amazement, awe and anticipation. It was not too long, however, before we learned the new routine. Of course, in our new roles we couldn't associate too much with those "children" beneath us.

To begin our school career, we elected the officers who were to guide us. They were Eddie Hester, President; C. S. Shelton, Vice-President; Jimmy Harrell, Secretary; and Sally Wolfe, Treasurer. They did a good job.

Our second fall, September 1952, we knew our way around, and enjoyed watching the new freshmen struggle. Along the way we had lost a few members and were now only forty-six in number. Twelve of our girls and boys were waitresses and waiters at the Junior-Senior Banquet, and that really made us long for our Senior days. The road seemed long and hard.

Our officers this year were Billy Byrd, President; C. S. Shelton, Vice-President; Sally Wolfe and Gaynelle Puckett, Secretary and Treasurer.

Our third fall and we were now "Jolly Juniors". Our class had decreased to thirty-two members, and from these we elected our officers; Billy Byrd, President; Sylvia Martin, Vice-President; Ann Wilson, Secretary; Madelene Weeks, Treasurer.

At once we began to think about money. We had to give a Junior-Senior Banquet, so we decided to make money with a supper. This was very successful, as was the Halloween Carnival. We felt quite rich and important at this time.

Before beginning work on the banquet we gave a Junior Play. The theme of our Junior-Senior was Robinhood. Though it took a great deal of work, each minute was full of fun and memories.

Our fourth and last fall. Yes, at last, September, 1954 has come. We have twenty seniors, and I am proud to be one of them.

Our class officers are; Dorothy Holloman, President; Jackie Crumpler, Vice-President; Madelene Weeks, Secretary and Treasurer.

This year was filled with gay events. There was our Senior-Play, Washington trip, and Junior-Senior Banquet (this year we were the guests). Our annual was quite a job, but we enjoyed working with it.

May 1955. At last the time has come. GRADUATION! With what I hope is dignity, I have put on my cap and gown for that long awaited night.

Now sadly, we say good-bye to the students, teachers, and friends who have made this the grandest four years of our life.
